

Clarity Automated Android App Documentation

App Package Name: com.fsck.k9

Application Activity Name:

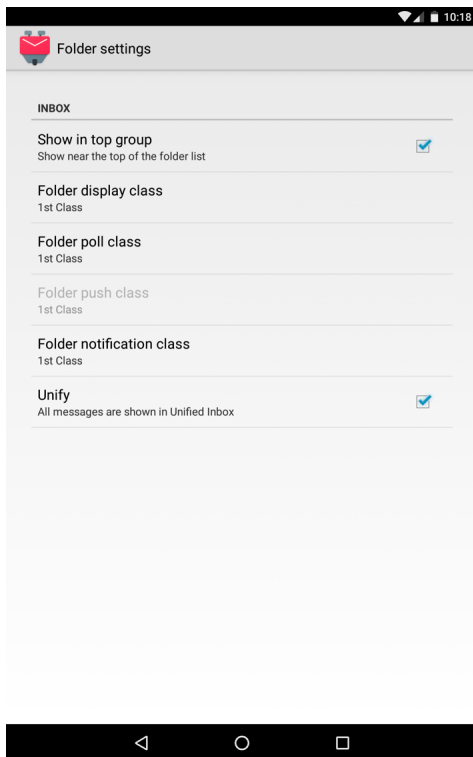

This Screen Implements the Following General Functionality:

- screen shows setting options of an app
- the screen allows the user to access settings
- the screen allows the user to access the menu

This Screen Implements the Following UI-Component Functionality:

- the top left icon allows the user to go backwards
- in the center of the screen is a text field where the user inputs their email address
- in the center of the screen is a text field where the user inputs their name

Application Activity Name

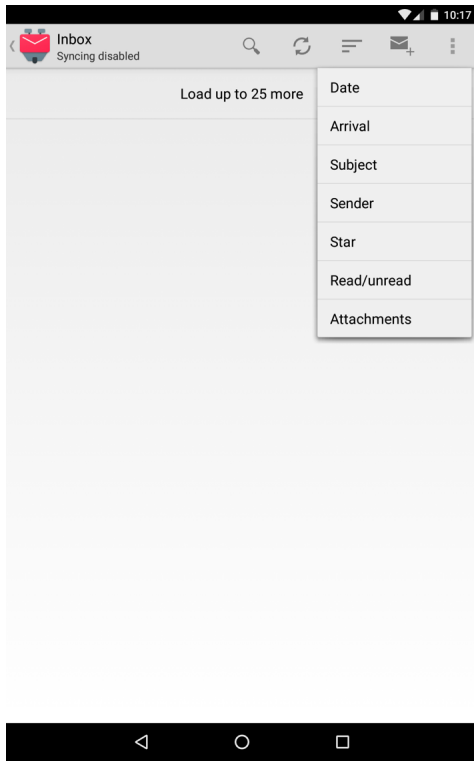

This Screen Implements the Following General Functionality:

- the screen allows the user to access settings
- the screen allows the user to select a country
- the screen allows the user to choose a country

This Screen Implements the Following UI-Component Functionality:

- at the top left corner there is an arrow mark symbol
- at the top left corner there is an arrow link button which can be used to go back
- -

Application Activity Name

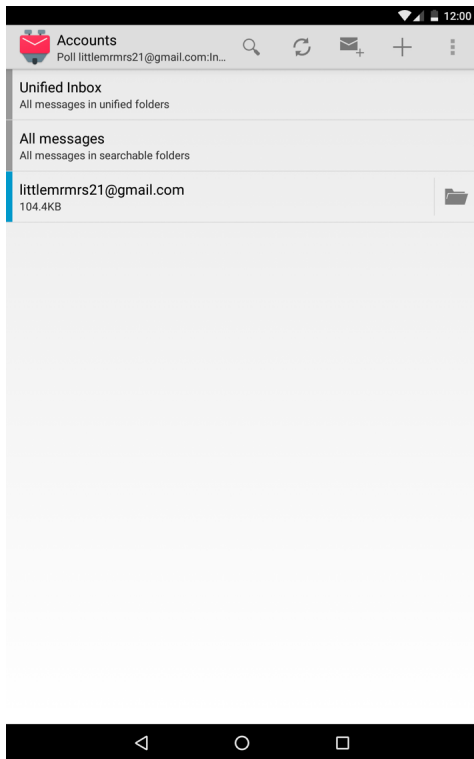

This Screen Implements the Following General Functionality:

- the screen allows the user to access the menu
- the screen allows the user to access settings
- the screen allows the user to select a country

This Screen Implements the Following UI-Component Functionality:

- on the top left there is a heading
- -
- -

Application Activity Name

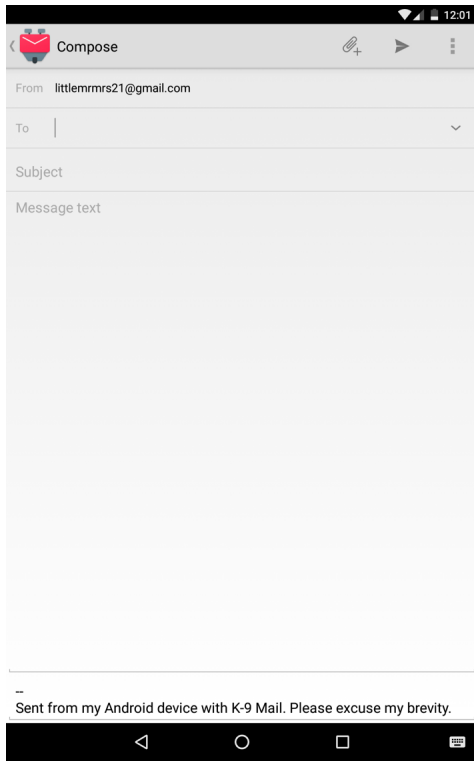

This Screen Implements the Following General Functionality:

- screen shows setting options of an app
- the screen allows the user to access settings
- the screen allows the user to select a country

This Screen Implements the Following UI-Component Functionality:

- at the top left corner there is a link button which is the menu link button
- at the top left corner there is a link button which is the menu link
- at the top left corner there is a link button

Application Activity Name

This Screen Implements the Following General Functionality:

- the screen allows the user to access settings
- the screen allows the user to select a country
- the screen allows the user to choose a country

This Screen Implements the Following UI-Component Functionality:

- at the top left corner there is an arrow mark symbol
- at the top left corner there is an arrow link button
- at the top left corner there is an arrow link button which can be used to go back